Supporting Scotch families in need

We would like to re-introduce our service to support Scotch families in need. While not desired, none of our boys is sheltered from the possibility to experience hardship, e.g. death or terminal illness of a loved one, or life-changing events, such as divorces.

As a Scotch community we are committed to our boys' and families' wellbeing and hence offer to help those families in need. This could be by providing dinner for a week, sending flowers or chocolates, or one-off cleaning or gardening services. This service is confidential and conducted by a small group of people (up to 3). We will not share your hardship with anyone, unless you ask us to.

How can I apply for the assistance?

Simply write a brief email to jcommunityhelp@gmail.com describing your hardship, your contact details and what help may be needed. We will contact you shortly. Please note that it will be at our discretion to provide the service.

I know that someone is going through a tough time, but they would not ask for help.

Thank you for caring for the families in the Scotch community. Please send us an email of the family's hardship circumstances, their contact details and potential help needed. We will provide the service anonymously.

Why are we offering this service?

This is a way for JSPA to say thank you for your continued support of JSPA events and to give back to those who most need it in our Junior School community.
